A brilliant masquerade ball was given in the "Wigwam" at Barton's Heights Friday night. Over fifty couples in fancy costumes participated in the reveries. The dancers unmasked about midnight and many surprises followed, for everyone up to that time had taken great care not to disclose his or her identity.

St. Andrew's lecture-room was crowded to its utmost capacity Thursday evening, it having been announced that the literation and Banjo and Guitar Club would give a concert. They rendered most excellent music, which did credit to their able director, Professor W. P. Dabney, who is not only a master of his profession, but a musical genius.

Mr. M. E. Ingalls, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio, who arrived in the city Friday night, left yesterday afternoon for Old Point, where he will spend Sunday and Monday. He was accompanied by Mr. Andrews, a Cincinnati director of the company, and on Tuesday will be joined here by several northern directors. A general meeting of the Chesapeake and Ohio stockholders will be held at the company's headquarters, Pace building, Tuesday at noon.

One of the most delightful social events of the season was a card-party given by Mrs. Dr. R. B. Stover Friday night in honor of her friend, Miss Constance Tinsley. A pretty departure from the usual rule was the exclusive use of white in floral decorations. Among the guests present were Mrs. Dr. Philip Taylor, Mrs. J. N. Gordon, Mrs. Louis Rawlings, Misses Constance Tirsley, Sallie Deane, Beulah Patterson, Jennie Croxton, Bessie Lewis, Emily Epes, Grace Carrington, and Hon. Alex. McDonald.

Hon. Alex. McDonald.

Miss Mary Granger and friends had a delightful time at her home, on west Main street, Friday evening in the way of a surprise party. Danoing was participated in until a very late hour. Among the ladies present were: Misses Florence and Jessie Pennel, Ruth Wright, Blanche Bender, A. and S. Bradley, Sarah and Delia Blankenship, Cora Wright, Mattie Stuart, L. and T. Smith, Miss Tye. Miss Williams, and Miss Gill. The gentlemen present were: Messra, Stuart, Allen, Hoy, Smith, Bland, Gill, Williams, Toomey, Eurrows, Bradley, L. and E. Wright, Atkinson, and C. Blankenskip.

Richmond theatre-goers will have minstrelay, comedy, and romantic tragedy on which to feast this week, and the ladies will be afforded an opportunity to hear several lectures by one of their sex.

The big attraction of the week is at the Academy, where Sol Smith Russell, the eminent comedian will play, beginning Tue-day evening In the unique creation of Hosea Howe, in the successful play, Peaceful Valley Mr. Russell is seen at his best, as it enables him to display all of his powers as an actor. Without apparent effort he sways the feelings of his audiences, moving them to laughter or to tears at will. His acting is free from any approach to artificiality: it is purely natural, always magnetic, replete with the touches of nature. Hosea Howe in his able hands is a dramatic treat to audiences. There will be three performances, including a matinee on Wednesday.

The Theatre's ATTRACHONS.

The Theatre will be redolent with the odor of burned cork Wednesday evening, when Field's Minstrels will hold the beards. This company is well known here and needs no introduction. It is worth seeing, and will be apt to please lovers of minstrelsy. In the company, which embraces about thirty members, are Jimmy Wall, Hibble, W. G. Mack, Webb, Clayton, Andy Jenkins, Howe, McLeon, Horan, Jo. Lewis, Steadman, Collins, Quigby, and Jo. Lewes.

Mis. Potts to Lecture in Richmond.

Mis. Anna Longshore Potts, who has won a high reputation in both this country and Europe, will commence at the Academy of Music on Thursday a series of five afternoon lectures to ladies only. The opening lecture will be free, and his those which will follow, it will be illustrated with handsome stereoptican views of art and travel on the subjects discussed. This course will close on Tuesday afternoon, and Wednesday night she will give her famous lecture on "Love, Courtship, and Marriage" before an audience of ladies and gentlemen. Mis. Potts is a Philadelphian, and was one of the first-class ever graduated from the Woman's Medical College, of that city, and enjoyed a high reputation among medical men, even at a time when the appearance of a woman in the profession was viewed with small favor. She commenced about ten years ago delivering private lectures in her drawing-rooms to ladies only, but she was soon persuaded to deliver a course of public lectures, and has been devoting her entire time to the work, having, after visting the principal cities of this country, made tours of New Zealand, Australia, England, &c.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Virginia Historical Society was beld in the rooms of the society in the Westmoreland Club-House last evening. Protests Against the Cosl Deal.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Harrisonburg, Pa., February 20.—Governor Pattison to-day made public two letters he has received, one from A. J. Cassatt, a director of the Peunsylvania railroad, and the other from General Master-Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, protesting against the Reading-Lenigh-Valley-Jersey-Central deal. Mr. Cassatt gives an array of facts that he (the Governor) considers sufficient to prove the illegality of the deal, and Mr. Powderly protests as a citizen of this State, and demands that the Constitution be upheld. Both letters were referred by Governor Pattison to Attorney-General Hensel for such action as will enforce the Constitution and bring all who have violated it within its control."

THE UNLUCKI NUMBER.

The thirteen delegates unfriendly to him are three each from Clinton, Essex, the First Chautanqua District and the Second Niagara District and one from the Fulton and Hamilton District. Mr. Hill is authoritatively informed that the Essex delegation is unfriendly to him. The twelve delegates from Albany county, comprising one congressional district, are uninstructed. If they were to-night to select the two national delegates from this district Mayor James H. Manning and Anthony N. Brady, the latter a prominent Hill man, would be chosen.

BILL'S HOPES.

HILL'S ROPES.

Hill's friends say the Albany congressional district is the only one which cannot be controlled to send national delegates for Hill. It is known that Senator Hill believes the convention will instruct the New York delegation to present his name at Chicago, and that the unit rule will be adopted by the convention. It is known that the unit resolution is already prepared. So far as is known there are but three contests—one each in the Fourth Albany District, the Second Chautauqua District, and the First Oswego District.

PROBLEMS. HILL'S HOPES.

District, and the First Oswego District.

PROBLEMS.

The two most important elements in the situation to-night are problematical. Will New York and Kings county consent to the instructions of the national delegates under the unit rule for Senator Hill at Chicago? And what will be the action on Monday of those who are friendly to the interests of Mr. Cleveland, as embodied in what is now known as the anti-Hill movement? There are those who feel that Mr. Hill is independent of New York and Kings counties, and that the effect of an ostensible difference between Tammany and the country would be wholesome and helpful to Mr. Hill before the national convention.

Such an ostensible arrangement of the ities against the country, it is urged by ome, would prevent the assumption in the property of the prope

TAMMANY AND HILL.

The other element of speculation to-night—the probable action of the so-called anti-Hill leaders on Monday—has been in-tensified by the arrival here to-night of Mr. E. Ellery Anderson. He has made a tour of the chief cities of the State, and expects delegations from each to arrive here on Monday for co-operation against Mr. Hill.

that the convention be dissolved and a later date fixed. This is expected to be refused by the State committee, it being doubtful if the protest ever reaches the convention. The element of uncertainty arises exactly at this point. What will the anti-Hill leaders then do? It has been affirmed that a meeting will be held in a hall, which is said to have been engaged, and that action looking to another convention will then be taken. Upon this point Mr. Anderson declines to disclose the purposes of himself and colleagues.

(By Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch.)

Loxdon, February 20.—Snow-storms prevailed last night throughout the United Kingdom. In London two inches of snow fell, and this morning the city was coveloped in a dense fog. The weather remains cold. The upper reaches of the Thames are frozen. In North Wales 10,000 quarymen have been thrown out of employment by the snow which has fallen to a great depth in that part of the country. All outdoor work in the ship-yards at Hartiepool, county of Durham, in the eastern part of England, has been stopped, owing to the yards being buried in snow. The cessation of work in the yards renders idle 7,000 men. The storm in the midland counties has brought all out-door work to a standstill. The mail-service between Great Britain and Ireland has been greatly delayed. A despatch from Dublin states that telegraph wires and poles are down in all directions through Ireland, and that railroad traffic is interrupted by the neavy dritts with which the lines are encumbered.
